

Mahatma Gandhi Central University

Motihari, Bihar

Discourse in Humanities

A Lecture Series from 18 to 21 May 2020

Second Lecture

Romanticism in English Literature by Dr Vikas Sharma

Join via Google Meet

At 11 am on 19-05-2020
meet.google.com/zex-xikt-tak

Dr. Vikas Sharma is an Associate Professor of English at CCS University Meerut. He has received PhD from Kumaun University, Nainital and D.Litt. from CCS University, Meerut. He has been editor of Notions, a peer-reviewed journal of English literature, and member of Editorial Board, Research Journal of English (RJOE). Dr. Vikas has also held the position of Principal of D.A.V. P.G. College, Bulandshahr (UP).

Romanticism In English Literature

In his lecture, Dr Vikas will explore various aspects of romanticism, a literary movement in the early half of the nineteenth century British literature, felt across the globe through various names as transcendentalism in America and chayavaad in India. The romantic poets include Wordsworth, Coleridge, Shelly, Byron, and Keats who have held sway over English literature across cultures. Charged with the spirit of revolution—consequent upon french revolution, this movement brought a cataclysmic change in the notion of literature itself and defined poetry as “a spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings”.

Chair Person: Prof. Rajeev Kumar
Dean, School of Social Sciences

Co-Chair: Prof Devdutt Chaturvedi
Head, Department of Chemistry

Upcoming Lectures:

20th May: Contemporary Indian English Fiction: Search For Identity by Prof. Jagdish Batra, O.P. Jindal Global University

21st May: Literature History And Literary Theory by Dr Kumar Sushil, Punjabi University

Organising Secretary

Dr Bimlesh K Singh
Head &
Associate Professor,
Department of English

Co-Organising Secretaries

Dr Umesh Patra
Dr Kalyani Hazri
Mr Balande Chandoba N.
Mr Deepak
Assistant Professors, Department of English

Organised by Department of English, MGCU